

7 Must-Dos WHEN NAMING GUARDIANS FOR YOUR KIDS

1. If you name a couple to act as guardians, make sure you decide what should happen if the couple breaks up or if one dies or is incapacitated. Documenting this properly is critical to ensuring the well-being and care of your children, no matter what.
2. Name more than one potential guardian. What if something happens to your first choice? Decide and document who will succeed your first nominee.
3. Avoid taking financial resources into consideration when deciding who should raise your children. Your guardians do not have to be financial decision makers for your kids. You need to leave enough money behind and put it in Trust to ensure it's cared for properly.
4. Consider creating a Revocable Living Trust to prevent a Court from taking jurisdiction over your money and your loved ones through probate, which is totally public and doesn't protect your money from your family's later divorces and lawsuits.
5. Exclude anyone who you know you'd never want to care for your kids or who might challenge your guardian decisions. Do it in writing.
6. Make arrangements for the short term if you were in an accident. What would happen to your kids in those immediate hours until your permanent guardians could arrive? We recommend our unique Kids Protection Plan® to cover that critical time of care.
7. Name your short term guardians in a separate, freestanding document. Naming short term guardians allows you to choose who you want to take care of your children until their long term guardian is appointed and your Will is admitted to probate.

Look below to see what you can do to make sure your kids would always be taken care of by people you know, love and trust.

no matter what.

Take Control of Your Legal Life & Ensure the Well-Being & Care of Your Family With A COMPLIMENTARY Family Wealth Planning Session (normally $750)
The Planning Session is absolutely FREE and there is NO OBLIGATION and NO PRESSURE.

We understand that meeting with a lawyer isn't high on your list of fun things to do. Many of our clients felt the same way before their planning session, but absolutely LOVE it after they've experienced a Family Wealth Planning Session with us! They love the peace of mind that comes with knowing everything is set up the right way for themselves, their future and their loved ones.

Schedule your FREE Family Wealth Planning Session at Susan Hunt Law! Call us today at 336-373-9877